

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

Anti-Counterfeiting and Product Protection Criminology

The Center for Anti-Counterfeiting and Product Protection (A-CAPP) offers this graduate certificate program through the School of Criminal Justice

To obtain the certificate, you must successfully complete 1 required course and 3 elective courses, which provide a holistic overview of the product counterfeit risk. The program includes content focusing on criminology theory and international crime.

While the course work is grounded in core academic principles, the content is pragmatic and applicable to brand protection managers making day-to-day decisions. Many courses were developed at the request of industry and co-developed with business managers paired with academics. Participants who successfully complete the course work will be well positioned to provide strategic anti-counterfeiting and product protection strategies for industry and agencies.

REQUIRED

- Understanding Product Counterfeiting

SAMPLE ELECTIVES

- Introduction to Product Counterfeiting
- Crime Causation, Prevention and Control
- Globalization of Crime
- Food Protection and Defense
- Introduction to Pharmaceutical Counterfeiting and Public Health
- Corporate Environmental Crime and Risk

Please visit schedule.msu.edu for a complete listing of courses.

For other course selections, please contact Dr. Jeremy Wilson for approval: jwilson@msu.edu

COURSES OPEN TO STUDENTS AND PROFESSIONALS CAN BE APPLIED TO A DEGREE PROGRAM

Registration process or questions, please contact:
Kari Kammel | 517.353.2163 | kkammel@msu.edu

A-CAPP.MSU.EDU