Spartans Breaking the Silence Surrounding Human Trafficking

6:15 TO 8:15PM
145 Communication Arts and Sciences Building

THURSDAY
April 12, 2018

MSU’s School of Criminal Justice and Graduate Students in the School of Social Work invite you to view a documentary about human trafficking: Break the Chain. Following the movie, a panel will discuss human trafficking in Michigan and the United States.

Break the Chain is a documentary that addresses the often “hidden-in-plain-sight” issue of human trafficking within Michigan communities and the United States. The 70-minute film chronicles two survivors of human trafficking within Michigan communities – providing a detailed look at how trafficking goes unnoticed within our backyards.

PANELISTS
Mary Finn, Director and Professor, School of Criminal Justice
Amber Kenny-Hinojosa, Detective, Ingham County Sheriff's Office
Mindy Osantowski, Founder of Mommabear A.O.H, Survivor Advocates Rescue & Restoration Services for Minor Sex Trafficking Victims and their Families
Laura Swanson, Director and Producer, Break the Chain
Jane White, Michigan Human Trafficking Task Force

Free parking for the public beginning at 6:00PM in Ramp #5, south of the Community Arts and Sciences Building.
Hosted by Graduate Students in the School of Social Work and the School of Criminal Justice Diversity and Inclusion Committee
Sponsored by the School of Social Work's Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion Committee (EDIC) and the College of Arts and Letters