The Center for Anti-Counterfeiting and Product Protection (A-CAPP) and the School of Criminal Justice at Michigan State University (MSU) invite applications for a tenure-system faculty position at either the Assistant or Associate Professor rank. A-CAPP is an interdisciplinary evidence-based center, conducting research, educational programs, and partnerships designed to assist industry, law enforcement, policymakers and others in understanding and combating the multidimensional aspects and effects of all forms of product counterfeiting. A global and dynamic Center that enjoys university and industry support, it is comprised of over 25 researchers and investigators from many nationally-ranked disciplines at MSU, including those housed within the Colleges of Social Science, Business, Engineering, and Communication Arts and Sciences.

The successful applicant will be jointly appointed in the A-CAPP Center and the School of Criminal Justice, or in another relevant academic department or school. The applicant must demonstrate substantive, theoretical, and methodological strengths that directly relate or are applicable to addressing product counterfeiting. Interest and/or experience in international research and partnering with industry and across disciplines would be positive additions to these research interests. The position will begin August 16, 2014.

Required qualifications include a Ph.D., and evidence of a strong record or promise of scholarly research. Experience in funded research is a benefit and is a requirement for appointment at the Associate Professor level. The successful applicant will be expected to seek external research funding and work with other faculty members and students on a broad, interdisciplinary portfolio of product counterfeiting research projects with rich opportunities for publication and funding support. The Center provides outstanding research administrative support. Please visit the Center website (http://a-capp.msu.edu/) for more information about its mission, activities, and partners.

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2013, and continue until the position is filled. All application materials should be submitted electronically to MSU at http://www.hr.msu.edu/hiring/msujobs.htm. Reference posting number 8596. Application materials must include: letter of application, curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and three letters of reference. Substantive inquires can be directed to Dr. Jeremy Wilson at jwilson@msu.edu.

MSU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer in policy and practice and the Center and School actively seek and support a diverse workforce. Background check required prior to employment.
